

Abstract

The study included a plan to divide the topic into five chapters, we dealt with in the introductory chapter the concept of the year for minorities.

The first chapter of international protection of minorities under international conventions and international organizations, which consists of two sections discussed the first topic, a researcher at the international protection of minorities under international conventions and in the second section of international protection of minorities under international and global organizations.

In Chapter two Protection of Minorities under Iraqi legislation. Researcher dealt with in the first section under the protection of minorities in the constitutions of Iraq and the second section to ensure the protection of minorities under the laws of Iraq. In the third chapter of historical developments and political situation of minorities in the modern Iraqi state. The first section contains the historical developments of minorities in the modern Iraqi state. The second section dealt with the political situation of minorities in Iraq after the founding of the modern Iraqi state.

Either the fourth quarter and the historical reality of social and political Sabean Mandaeans in Iraq.

Be the first topic of historical reality and the social and economic Sabean Mandaeans, and the second section the political reality of Sabean Mandaeans.

Conclusion included the findings and recommendations reached by the researcher through the study.